 GREAT NEW STUFF *****

What gives a sweater its appeal? Is it simply style alone, or is there some elusive quality that makes it a "stand-out"? We've got a bevy of new yarns, designs and innovative products, each with a special "something" to spark your creativity. Vibrant patterns, energetic hues, and colorful styles are spring's sure things. What are knitters knitting now? It's "Knit A Classic" Month, and CLASSIC ELITE tells us that it's traditional sweaters that are hot on the needles. Look for lace, lace & cable combinations, Bohus sweaters, Fair Isle colorwork, Faroese shawls -- anything related to the history of knitting. Whatever your fancy this spring, we've got the goods and here's the latest:

The environment is the hottest of hot-button topics these days, and Vogue Knitting Magazine Spring / Summer 2008 ($6.99, shown upper left) features ten fabulous hot-weather sweaters in the greenest of yarns that are good for the environment and your wardrobe. There is a special section on organic style -- knitting green and what it means. There are several projects for fairy-tale wedding knits, including a bag, ethnic mitts, shrug, bridal coat, dresses and lace knits. Style is in the air with a new wave of classics: cables, tanks and tunics in deep blue, plus black & white sweaters for work. An article on waist shaping by Lily Chin is a "must-read"...

Everyone's dyeing to dye! Knit One, Crochet Too introduces the Culinary Colors Dye Collection ($53.95). This kitchen-safe, eco-friendly dye collection for yarn and fiber includes directions and basic color theory instructions, and highly concentrated, FDA-approved dyes for use on animal fibers such as wool, alpaca, and silk (1 fluid ounce each of 10 vibrant colors will dye multiple projects)...

Love to knit? Want projects that are quick and fun to do? 100% cotton yarn dishcloths are a very portable project, as practical as they are pretty. Pick one or two of our 100% cotton yarns and make a batch from two new booklets from LEISURE ARTS ($6.95 each). "Baby Washcloths to Knit" features 9 easy-to-make soft cloths for baby with whimsical garter stitch designs like butterflies, sailboats, stork, bunny, rocking horse, lamb and baby items. "Garden Dishcloths to Knit" includes 12 designs with garter stitch motifs like leaping frogs, ladybug, flowers, birds, cherries and much more...

New from COLINETTE just in time for spring occasions like proms, bridal showers, and weddings, is the Mini Pak Shawl Kit ($129.50). This shawl kit includes several hanks of hand-painted, textured yarns sufficient to complete a large triangular shawl, easy to knit, and a beautiful one-of-a-kind masterpiece when finished....

BERROCO introduces Norah Gaughan Volume 2 ($15.50), which contains two stories with two distinct covers in a flip book design. In "Three for All", Norah takes three concepts and each has three variations, and "Objet d'art" features simple modern pieces. Summery blends of linen, silk and rayon are knit in stockinette stitch, mixed with a few simple openwork stitches and transformed with pleats, twists and folds into interesting and wearable "objets". The booklet features sensual tops, cropped cardigans and beautiful, functional bags (shown lower right), all icons of Gaughan's inimitable style...

 NOW ON OUR BOOKSHELF *****

Felting has become increasingly popular among our customers, as it creates a textile that is durable yet soft. Shibori Knitted Felt ($24.95, softcover, detail shown left) adds an extra dimension to felted knits, drawing on ancient Japanese-inspired techniques using beading, pleating, and embroidery to manipulate and decorate the fabric.

Knitted-in bobbles and shibori-style "bumps" (produced by marbles tied into the knitting before it is felted and then removed) can be used to make wonderful fabrics with a raised texture, too. Knitters who already love knitted felt for its softness and durability will take their skills to new heights with the addition of fanciful embellishments.

This book is filled with beautiful things to make for yourself or as gifts for friends and family. Try your hand at interestingly textured bags, scarves, and wraps for your spring wardrobe or throws, cushion covers, place mats and coasters for your home. There is simple, down-to-earth, technical advice and easy-to-follow patterns, with the added bonus of some tried-and-true advice on getting the best from washing-machine felting...

British fishermen's sweaters are some of the most satisfying creations a knitter can make. Their beauty comes from texture and pattern alone, yet they can be as spectacular or as understated as you wish. Traditionally worked in the round, with knitted-in sleeves, they require no sewn seams -- appealing for many knitters!

Cables, Diamonds, Herringbones ($19.95, softcover) demystifies the process and passes on traditions to other hands. North American knitters are more familiar with the Irish Aran sweaters, but the traditional Scottish Guernsey (gansey) and English Jersey patterns in these pages are made with finer wool on smaller needles, yielding less bulky sweaters that can be either "dressed up" or work with a favorite pair of jeans. Either way, these are sweaters that your family will appreciate for years to come...

Fashion trends may come and go, but true beauty never goes out of style. In Classic Knits at Home ($19.95, hardcover), Erika Knight turns her skilled eye to adding sumptuous texture and elegant color to the home with a collection of 15 knitted basics for every room. Each textile has been carefully considered for its hand-crafted charm, which will withstand the vagaries of fashion. Projects range from a quintessential cable knit throw in the softest cashmere blend to a practical wash mitt knitted in eco-friendly yarn, as well as a chic yoga mat and slippers for cozy comfort. The range of yarns is natural, comfortable, and easy to live with: cotton, alpaca, mohair, cashmere blends, and wool...

From lacy summer tops to chic sweaters, to chunky, funky hats and colorfully crafted afghans -- they all start with the single, simple act of wrapping a crochet hook around a strand of yarn. Then come the stitches, the flourishes, the unlimited creativity. Stylish and somewhat cheeky in tone, chock-full of information and inspiration, STITCH 'n BITCH Crochet: The Happy Hooker ($15.95, soft cover) is an indispensable guide. Learn crochet skills, speak the lingo, and make the stuff. From a cute little sock monkey hat to elegant mohair bunny slippers to a "Doris Daymat", these whimsical designs are a stitch wrapper's delight. A special shout-out to knitters: you'll love how easy crochet is and how quickly the project progresses...

 APPLIED I-CORD *****

Marylyn in VA e-mailed us with a request for applied I-cord information. Applied, or attached, I-cord is a knitted cord that adds a beautiful finishing touch to a garment edge when a rib is not appropriate. A wide I-cord may be used as a design feature, and a narrow I-cord can serve as a surface to attach another edging (to prepare a surface for zipper insertion, neaten scarf edges, finish purse flaps and handbags, etc.).

From Kristen TenDyke, CLASSIC ELITE YARNS techie: When working an applied (attached) I-cord edging, pick up on the "wrong" side of the work for a smoother appearance.

Gleaned from the Internet on the subject of applied I-cords (original source attributed to Meg Swansen): On the "wrong" side, with a smaller double-pointed needle (dpn), pick up one stitch for each ridge along the selvedge. On regular size needle, cast on 3 sts in the border color. Transfer the 3 sts to the dpn and *K2, slip 1, K1 (a picked up stitch from the body), pssso (pass slipped stitch over). Replace the 3 sts to the pick-up needle and repeat from *.

Another variation attributed to Susan Esser: With dpns, Cast on 3 sts, *K2, slip 1 as if to knit, yarn over, insert the needle into the sweater edge and pick up a stitch (5 sts now on needle). Insert the left-hand needle into both the yarn-over and the slipped stitch, and slip them over the last stitch. You now have 3 sts on your dpn. Repeat from *. This works better if you are working with two colors and do not wish the garment color peeking through.

Several sources reported success with picking up a dpn's worth of stitches at a time. Depending on your gauge, you may need to change the ratio of pick-up for a smooth edge. Skip a row every now and then to maintain an even look.

If you work more than one row of I-cord, you will need to increase around any corners to avoid the cord bunching up. To do this, work applied I-cord to corner. Work 2 or 3 rows I-cord without attaching. Re-attach and work as for applied I-cord. OR, pick up an extra stitch or two before and after the corner point stitch. Pick up the loop between the stitch, twist in, and place it on the left-hand needle, then work it as usual. The twist will prevent a hole...

 SPRING 2008 TREND REPORT *****

CLASSIC ELITE YARNS, our featured yarn company this month, shared their seasonal forecast with us: "On the fashion front, trend magazines tell us that consumers are looking for something special, something one-of-a-kind, handmade, and seasonless -- a gem to treasure beyond a single season.

Knitwear, especially knitwear made by hand, fits the bill perfectly. Colors, yarns, silhouettes, and sweaterly details are grouped into three stories for Spring 2008:

Honesty This story is organized around a palette of sun-dried colors -- picture rich apricots, bleached lemon, wheat, and flax. The fibers are natural -- linen, cotton, bamboo, hemp -- alone or blended with other naturals or synthetics that make them lighter and more comfortable to wear. Silhouettes are primitive -- kimono shapes, unstructured jackets, wide sleeves. Details are rustic -- exposed seams, ties that wrap to hug the body, large pockets.

Tonic Clear, lively colors -- raspberry, grass green, delft blue, and lemon peel -- are the basis of this story. Layer or mix them in stripes or little colorwork patterns. The yarns are finer, and a little viscose or bamboo provides a subtle sheen. Shapes are long and narrow or blouson. Design details include deep ribs, edges in a contrast color, hoods, zippers, and drawstrings.

Whisper Think of misty mornings, layers of gray cloud scudding across the sky, the metallic glimmer of water on the sidewalk. This story is themed around the color gray, from pale tints to hefty charcoal, often burnished with pearlescent touches. Yarns might be marled or tweedy or textured in some way. Silhouettes are long and lean, maybe belted or tucked in, and they feature dressmaker details such as dart shaping, tailored collars, and full-fashioned raglans.

Fashion predictions aside, a perusal of knitting blogs shows that knitters (at least those that are inclined to chat about their craft), are growing more sophisticated in their skills. They want to understand lace, find ways to combine stitch patterns with interesting silhouettes, and experiment with new techniques such as knitting a sweater from the neck down. Small projects continue to attract knitters-- as well as projects that don't require a lot of fussy finishing and gauge-taking". Knit A Classic!

 INQUIRING KNITTERS WANT TO KNOW *****

Joyce M recently asked, "How do I know the correct number of stitches to pick up for bands? The number that the pattern calls for seems like too many and I'm worried that the band will flare". Good question! Joyce Bischoff has a couple of suggestions. When working bands, particularly with cotton yarns, Joyce picks up into every space. Then, decrease evenly spaced on the first row to the number of stitches specified in the pattern. For buttonbands, you may use your garment as a swatch to pick up a few inches worth of stitches as a "gauge swatch" to experiment.

Kathy reminds us that the pick up row is gauge-dependent. The typical pick-up for a vertical edge is 3 out of 4 rows. This roughly translates into standard gauges of 5 sts / 7 rows per inch for worsted weight yarns and 6 sts / 8 rows per inch for sport weight yarns. If you are working garter stitch, slip stitch, brioche stitch or patterns that have a more compressed gauge, pick up the ratio between stitches and rows. For example, if your gauge is 5 sts / 10 rows per inch, try picking up every other row. For horizontal pickups (bound off neck stitches), pick up one stitch for each bound-off one. For diagonals, usually 5 out of 6 is the appropriate amount.

If you pick up too few stitches, the edge will have a "pulled" appearance. If you pick up too many, the edge will flare. Sometimes a trial and error approach is best, and it's OK for you to use a different stitch count in the required multiple, if necessary...

 CABLE NEEDLE TIP *****

Recently, this tip from Terry D appeared on KnitNet: "A simple way to keep track of your cable needle between cable pattern stitches is to tuck it under your watchband. It's out of the way and won't fall out, particularly if you have an expansion watchband". Kathy prefers to use a short 5" Bryspun double-pointed knitting needle for cablework. She winds her cast-on tail onto a small bobbin and keeps her cable needle stored inside to be ready when needed...

 WE'RE A HOT SOX SPOT *****

Have you heard the buzz about the XRX / Knitter's Magazine "Think Outside The Sox" contest? Sock knitters are being asked to submit original designs in many categories and the winners will be awarded cash prizes. Winning entries will appear in an upcoming XRX book. We are pleased to be a HOT SOX SPOT featuring COLINETTE "Jitterbug" yarn. For contest rules, check out the spring issue of Knitter's or online at <http://thinkoutsidethe sox.com>

Tips from KnitNet: if you design your own socks and begin the socks with a ribbed cuff, make the rib pattern flow into the leg and foot pattern for a more polished, well thought-out professional look...
